Juli's Law

March 7, 2008 the Oklahoma House of Representatives passed the Juli' Law bill in honor of Juli Busken, a 21 year old University of Oklahoma dance student who was abducted, rape, sodomized then shot to death December 20, 1996. He assailant was apprehended in 2004 after a DNA matched.

The law will now require a blood or saliva sample for DNA testing to be taken when a person is arrested on a felony complaint and book in jail. The approval was 82 to 11. The argument is the law is too broad snaring anyone. Rep. Darrell Gilbert, D, Tulsa said, "Its goes way too far, it is too broad." Rep. Glen Bud Smithson, D-Sallisaw said, "Why would an innocent person be worried about having their DNA on record." Rep. Smithson must not be aware of the number of innocent men being released from or the charge of rape or rape and murder. The murder case of University of Oklahoma dance student, Juli Busken, 21, was solved by DNA. We do not know if the measure passed the Senate. Her assailant was sentenced to death in 2006.
