Editor's Note: As a wife and the mother of three young daughters, reading Gloria G. Lee's book was both an eye-opening and harrowing experience. Women of the United States like to imagine that we are safe on a city bus, safe while jogging, and especially safe in our own homes. However, as we see from the case studies of so many women who have gone before us, this is not always the case. It is a mistake to become too complacent. But it is also a mistake to become pessimistic or downhearted, though it is easy to let this happen. Gloria G. Lee also offers hope: that with a change in perspective, a change in attitude, and just a little extra caution, we can "take the stick out of the men's hands" and regain the freedom that we, as American women and women of the world, deserve.

This book is part of a fifteen year study into the murders of 20,000 American women. It contains extremely sensitive information; our apologies and condolences to the reader if this information is regarding a relative, love one and or friend. Although this book contains in certain areas explicit descriptions of violence, extreme care was taken to allow the victims as much dignity as possible. As you read you will realize these descriptions were made to expand our understanding of violence and to prevent violence against women and children and violence in our communities.

An Explanatory Note To Our Readers

This book was written to be purchased and read by adult men and women. If you are a young adult, a person who is not eligible to vote in his or her state, we suggest you read this book with your parent's permission and supervision. The information discussed is not pornographic it is historical, but it is a subject young adults should discuss with their parents or a responsible adult.

Caution

This book is part of a study into the murders of 20,000 American Women. It contains extremely sensitive information; our apologies and condolences to the reader if this information is regarding a relative, love one and or friend. Although this book contains in certain areas explicit descriptions of violence, extreme care was taken to allow the victims as much dignity as possible. As you read you will realize these descriptions were made to expand our understanding of violence and to prevent violence against women and children and violence in our communities.

We request that you do not read this book if you have been a victim of violence or have a male or female relative or child that has been a victim of violence. There is no way to escape the pain this book will produce. This information was difficult to research, to retrieve and extremely difficult to discuss in writing. The information is overwhelming and it is not possible to read this book without enduring excruciating pain. Pain is not our objective nor is sensationalism. Our objective is to bring about a permanent change in the status of the American woman and the women of the world. To meet this objective, we provide penetrating information. All too often, information regarding the death of an American female is taken as an isolated event, thereby making her death digestible and easy for the women of this country to accept. Although the murders are important, over time, the murders become inconsequential because many women think the murders have nothing to do with one's every day life. Therefore, the full impact of the number of women murdered in this county is not appreciated. Collectively, the murder of over 200,000 American women is important when one can sit and read the cases of 20,000 women from this group. The information in this book is not being offered to sensationalize or exploit the death of these women. The information is being provided to bring recognition to their existence and their untimely deaths. We believe the women who paid the ultimate price for freedom should be immortalized. These women should never be forgotten.

This book was written in deference to the millions of women in the world who have lost their lives merely because they were women. Think of the girls in India who are raped so males can remain in control. If you have read the news out of Nigeria, you will understand males are fighting all over the world to remain in control. More than 300 school girls were taken from their families merely because they were females trying to learn to read. No one knows if these children will ever be returned home again. Women must wake to the fight for sovereignty.

Extreme care was taken in discussing the deaths of more than 20,000 American women. It was our wish to grant the victims as much dignity as humanly possible yet alert the women of this country of the horrors of their deaths. But how much dignity does a victim have when it is known she was stabbed more than 153 times? Again, we feel that you should not read this book if you have been a victim of violence or have a male or female relative or child who has been a victim of violence. If you choose to proceed we ask you to be brave, strength will come. There is much to learn. You will not put this book down without gaining knowledge. The Career Rapist especially will be hard reading, but as women we must stand together and face the monsters in life so we can live better lives and secure a future for our children. Although Do This in Remembrance of Me discusses the murder of 20,000 American women, the books are about life not death.

As you read the following information, please remain cognizant that you are reading case histories of crimes committed all over the United States. No one state has the same definition or punishment for any degree of murder, manslaughter or rape. The proof and qualification for an insanity defense is different in most states, as are the requirements for the death penalty. The definitions of mitigating and aggravating circumstances are defined differently by state, as is the right of a judge to override the jury during sentencing in death penalty cases. Also, the requirement for probation is different per state, as is the punishment for juveniles and individuals who are mentally handicapped and commit capital offenses. When you read Volume Three: The Career Rapist and Volume Four: The Recidivist, you will then appreciate this difference.

You must also remember American law is not static. Our laws have been made to yield to technology that has allowed for the release of men from prison. With respect to all the data in the four volumes of Do This in Remembrance of Me, the persons listed as murderers or rapists or in the category "Murderer Status: " were individuals who at the time were apprehended, arrested, charged, tried, convicted, or suspected or alleged by the police in the murder of the women mentioned. During the course of time, some of these individuals may have been exonerated and the information was not available or recorded in the source documents used during the development of the books Do This in Remembrance of Me. We took extreme care to list as many convictions and as many exonerations and overturned judgments that we could find in the source documents used. The two categories, "murdered by stranger" and "murdered by unknown," are not clearly defined as the categories when used by the United States Justice Department. Our "stranger" category is only used when the murderer is known but the relationship was not clear in the source document. The category "murderer unknown" was used when there was no information in the source document regarding the relationship of the murderer and victim, the murderer had not been apprehended, or the victim was unidentified at the time. In some situations, some of the cases listed under "unknown" may now have been solved.

We did not intrude upon the lives of the survivors as mentioned in the foreword. It is not our intention to sensationalize or to make murderers celebrities. You may recognize several women who were murdered by men now made famous by the newspapers. We did not use the slogan names of these men. We saw no need to further the agenda of newspapers.

When the last name of a person is in brackets, this means that we were not certain of the spelling of the last name or that we used the last name of the parent because we only knew the first name of the victim. The word "mother" across from the victim's name means in most cases that the woman left behind young children when she died. The word "see" references similar cases or women who were murdered together or murdered by the same person. Again we caution you: please do not read this book if you have been a victim of violence or have a male or female relative or child who has been a victim of violence. There is no way to escape the pain reading the following passages will cause. This information is upsetting, but we must have courage. If you choose to proceed, we ask you to be brave; strength will come. This section will be hard reading, but as women we must stand together and face the monsters in life so that we can secure a future for our children and bring peace to our nation. There is no peace when there is violence.

To the men reading our books: you must become more aware of the possibilities of danger that your daughters will experience when they date, become engaged, or marry. You cannot help the women of this nation if you do not understand their problems.

My name is Gloria G. Lee. I am the author of Do this In Remembrance of Me. I have been asked over and over again, why I wrote 10,000 pages discussing the murders of 20,000 women. How could I stand to read about these murders day in and day out, and then write about the murders, especially given the fact that some of the murders involved children? The answer is simple: I want to change America. I have been angry for 15 years over the condition of the American woman and I decided to do something with my anger. You will probably say that 15 years is a long time to be angry, but that is the truth. I have been seething at the status of women in this country. I have had enough of men making money off the bodies of women.

I endured the trauma of investigating these murders because I wanted to change the minds of women and men to allow every woman who wants to live her life under her own steam to be able to do so without reprisal, without ostracism and without betrayal. I wanted to be the catalyst to the final liberation of women. I am a member of the generation that burned their bras, yet I did not get the chance to do all that I wanted to do with my life. There were both economical and gender road blocks in my way during my life time that I want removed for future generations of women. I do not believe a single woman uneducated with children should have to do sexual favors for a male supervisor just to get a job or maintain a job, especially in a minimum wage restaurant. Is that not humiliation? How many times must a woman pay for being poor? I endured reading and writing about women being murdered because prostration and prostitution does more than just anger me; it leaves me simmering with rage. I endured reading and writing about women being murdered because I refused to go to my grave being a mean and hateful old woman, enraged because I did not get a chance to do what I wanted to do in my life. Anger solves nothing; it merely wrinkles the face. I stayed at my computer because I remembered my mother's words when she took me to the library. She told me over and over again "Knowledge is power; He who reads, sees." I tried to put as much knowledge in Do This In Remembrance of Me as I could. I want the women of this nation to see.

My mother was among the poorest of the poor, but she was a proud woman. She was also a defiant woman. It was her defiance that fueled my spirit every day as I wrote. My mother did not want to be what others wanted her to be. She was always trying to make the house look better, make us look better, with our hair combed and tied in ribbons and shoes shined. If there was one moment in time that I would use to describe my mother, I would say it was the moment when she would receive books in the mail through the Reader's Digest program. I read them all. I read every free book that came with each subscription my mother made in each of our names. The books she gave me to read were the greatest moments that defined my mother. She believed in books. There was nothing greater than a book. She believed through books one could escape poverty and ignorance. My mother believed she was doing the best thing for me by giving me a book to read. Later my mother would die in a hospital having no bed sores after being nursed day in and day out for 17 years by one of her daughters who she poured her dreams into. We remembered her words, "Look people in the eye, have a firm hand shake, sit up straight, work for what you want, don't back down when you are right and never get on your knees except for the Lord." My mother's wish for my life kept me writing. My past successes or failures were of no consequence to me. I was going to leave my words behind for others to read. My mother did not die an angry old woman and neither shall I.

Not every woman reading Do This In Remembrance of Me will experience the same emotions. Many will stand up, holler, scream, and spew vile words against my views. I am especially afraid of Black women, but I shall stand my ground even if they attack my body. I am demanding that they stand up even unto death. Black women in this country endured more than 400 years of being raped and sexually abused. No black woman has a right to go to sleep at night without landing a blow for the liberation of women. Some women will say, let the dead remain dead. Why dredge up the past? Murder has a specific protocol. It is not decent to talk about murder. These attitudes have remained unchanged for centuries. You don't speak of rape or murder in public. Secretly these people think murder is an evaluation of a person's self-worth. Illogically, people feel "If the person was murdered they weren't worth much because only bad people are murdered. They must have done something wrong to be murdered. Good people by virtue of their goodness live decent lives so they are no supposed to be murdered." Erroneously, women keep thinking if a woman is murdered she could not have been worth much because women who are valued do not get murdered. What kind of logic is that?

Women changed their outward manifestations, but many still refuse to take control of their minds and lives. Black women stick their heads in the sand when it comes to violence against women ("Oh please, don't talk about the number of Black prostitutes being murdered!") and White women find fault with the murdered woman. "She did not have to stay with him. The women should not have been so demanding. Everyone knows men work hard and must be given great understanding when they come home. The women should have gone to church more. Church attendance is very important to a marriage. You can't be much if you are not a Christian. I am better than you are because I am a Christian. I give to my church every Sunday. And because I say I am a Christian everyone is to believe that I do what the Lord tells me to do." Hypocrisy of the greatest order.

It is much better to find fault in others, than face what one has become after high school. It is much better to find fault in others, than face the fact that one's daughter may not want to live the life of her mother. It is much better to find fault, than face the fact that some women prefer to fly a plane than bake cookies. Why should either activity exclude one from being a woman? Some women will say, "It was the murdered woman's fault." Her husband would not have been killed her if she had behaved better. The women were murdered because they were not good wives. The women should have paid more attention to their husbands. The female college students were murdered because they did not stay home and get married and raise children like women are supposed to do. Women have no business flying airplanes or being an army general. Education is not necessary for women. Their roles are set in society: get married and be a good wife and mother. The reason why we have problems with juveniles today is because the mother is not in the home. She is off somewhere having a career. Read these objections out loud to yourself. Do they make sense at all?

I pose one question to the fought finders and the women who stick their heads in the sand, what do you say about the death of a child at the hands of his or her father or his or her mother's boyfriend.

As long as women remain divided, through fear, ignorance, superstition and social superiority men will continue to demand that women do as they are told to do at home and at work. This means your daughter, your niece, your aunt your grandmother and your mother must do as they are told because women remain divided in this country. Your daughter, your niece, your aunt your grandmother and your mother may have to get on their knees and open their mouth to get a job or to keep their job. I demonstrate in my books just because you have money now, does not mean this money will protect your child from economic or sexual abuse in the future. Are you really sending your daughter off to college so she can make her way in the world, or are you hoping she will meet a male student and get married and have children? If you are actually sending your daughter to college so she can fulfill herself, then you need to teach her more than what she has been taught. Every day she must be told about being abducted from her job at the pizzeria, being raped in the bathroom of Burger King, being raped in her dorm room, date rape, all the evil things men do so she will be prepared to protect herself. She should trust no one. Sending your daughter off to college as if there are no bad people in the world make you a bad parent. This is the ultimate form of neglect. You must tell her every trick in the book that males use to have sex with women voluntarily and non-voluntarily. (See The Career Rapist). You must also tell her how men turn women into prostitutes. If you do not know this information, it is high time you found out.

Out of all of the sentences I have written, the greatest sentence of all is this: Women talk too much. Shut Up! Arguments quickly escalate into mortal combat with the casualty being the woman. Your fury does not translate into muscle strength against a 200 pound man. For your safety, and the survival of your children, stop talking so much. It is possible to think if you stop talking. If you want to live to raise your children stop talking so much. You talk too much at work. You talk too much on a date. You talk too much at home. You talk too much at church and you definitely talk too much to your best girlfriend. Retrain yourself to think, not talk. If you feel the need to run your mouth, go into a bar, purchase a Coke, pour your troubles out to the bartender then tip the bartender and go home. It is stupid to threaten a man; "If you do not leave your wife, I will tell your wife what we have been doing." Less than five minutes after a woman in Texas got these words out of her mouth she was dead. "If you don't stop coming home drunk I am going to take the children and move to my mother's home." The woman who uttered these words was killed along with her children as she was walking out the door. Their bodies were found on the front lawn. Weak people threaten. Strong people act. Strong people do not ask for permission, they just do. Remember, if you have been in a relationship more than three months, the man knows your weaknesses. Why, because you talk too much. Men are hunters. They constantly look for weaknesses in everyone around them.

Lastly, it is my sincere wish that the series, Do This In Remembrance of Me, help you make it safely through life. Do not be afraid, just be willing to fight for your life. My mother preached to me for years: Let no man take your life without a fight.

Murder In The Family

Presented By the National Institute of

The Study of Violence

“He said he would kill her. He told her, ‘It may take a week, it may take a month, it may take a year, but mark my words, I will kill you.’ “She was a good girl.....and someone beat her to a pulp. My beautiful daughter.”

Frances Cunha, Rose Marie Moniz' mother, 2001

So far we have discussed the murder of 4,822 American women 3,210 women from Volume One and 1,612 women from Volume Two, Part One. The oldest woman murdered was Mahilda Sloan, age 95. The youngest victims are Brittany Franklin and Nakya Dannyell Scott 6 weeks. By the time you finish reading this volume you will have read about the murders of 5,987 women. Are you beginning to see a pattern? Are you beginning to see that women are not important even to other women? We are a house divided. The female murder victims can be of any age, size color or occupation but we remain divided. Are you noticing the reasons why women are being murdered? Did you notice imprisonment not prevention is the most important component of violence today, meaning "Women are going to be killed. Society accepts the fact that we cannot save the battered women but we can at least imprison her assailant when we catch him." Read Volume Four Part One and learn what happens when the state tires of housing their assailants. Do you see murder is not so clear cut as you are led to believe from the newspapers and news reports? Women are murdered inside and outside the home and they are murdered whether they leave or stay in the home. This point is crucial because there are men and women in this country that are showing a lack of empathy and understanding toward adult female victims. Many in our country believe "all she had to do was leave." The cure for gender violence seems to be all the woman has to do is leave the home and she will be safe, this is far from true. Every year hundreds of women are murdered many after they leave the home or end the relationship.

To make gender abuse and murder unacceptable change must come. Women must recognize that violence is the most useful tool in the world to control people. The perfection of violence makes it inconceivable that men will willingly discontinue the use of violence as a tool to maintain control inside and outside of the home. Violence as a tool for control is deeply embedded in our culture. Violence, slavery, and economic are entwined. There is no escaping this fact. The cause of violence is simple. The cause of slavery is simple and the cause of economic violence is simple. There are members in every society that need and demand power and the best way to gain power and to keep power is to control the masses and the masses can be controlled by ignorance, religion and labor. Until recently religion was too complex a medium in America to affect control therefore the most immediate means of power was economic. This is no longer true large corporations are now funding religious organizations and using the news media to maintain control of the masses; control through separation. Religion is being used to separate people. I am better than you because I am a Christian. I go to work every day and pay my taxes so I am better than you. You are on welfare so I am better than you. I pay my taxes so I am better than you. This is the same rhetoric Hitler used to divide people are all over Europe vilifying the Jews. Hitler made the Germans a special people ranked high above other Europeans. This technique works because more people are not sophisticated enough to check the facts being espoused to them. Who would suspect a clergyman to be dishonest? Women must see their plight as a more supplicated form of enslavement and terrorism. Women must run from ignorant speech and vote as a block at the polls realizing some women in public office or in the media care more for money than gender causes. The VAW Act was held up for more than a year by male legislators in the Senate and House who were voted into office by women. These men were not afraid of the wrath of women voters. They know female voters can be controlled by a few buzz words. Imagine women vote people into office who act against the best interest of women.

Women must understand that they must forever be vigilant or their daughters will share the same fate. Ridding our country of violence against women and children will take a continuing and consistent effort on the part of everyone to teach alternative to abusive behavior. Exclusion must become a dirty word. Public priorities must be redirected and education must be provided to all members of society. We need to spend as much effort, time, money and resources on reducing domestic terrorism as we do now for international terrorism. We must make a difference in the lives of abused women and children. We must stop terrorism in the home. The murder of women goes far beyond the phrase, "If you do what you are told I would not have killed you." America is still being guided by myths, monsters and legends even though we are the most industrialized nations in the world. Now we continue with the case summaries.

Injury Report

In an effort to better describe the violence women endure in this country we have divided this chapter into three parts. First we listed the murdered women by the injury sustained to the body, noting the year of death, and the state in which the women were murdered; then we listed the women by their relationship to the assailant; and finally we listed the women by the circumstances of their deaths.

We would appreciate it if you would read the first section out loud. As you read the list after the word noting the injury to the body, say the words 'to death' at the end of each line for example: Betty Ann Aardsma age 22 died 1969 in Pennsylvania she was stabbed to death. When you finish reading the list below please check off the names of the women you feel were murdered because of their mode of dress, the women who were asking for it. This task should be easy since men and women alike assume sexual assault and murder is in part due to the victim's behavior. In Chapter 4 of The Deadliest Moment we presumed to give unsolicited advice to the women of this country living in violent situations. When you finish reading this chapter we hope you will understand why the advice was given with such fervor and emotion.

 See Chapter 13 2485 to 2777

Now that you have read the injury list were you horrified or just sad? Do you think there is something you can do about this problem or is violence against women and children just a fact of life that we must accept? Are we to scurry home each night and wait fugitively in our homes for the dawn or are we to grasp life and demand more for our future? We hope your choice will be the latter. Our primary goal is cause a change in your life. If the information we have provided does not cause you to change then we have failed at our task. If you do not picture yourself in the position of each of these women then we have not been clear and you will not choose the path of change. Which means we have failed to convince you that you or your mother or your sister or your cousin or your grandmother could be any one of these women. Which also means we have failed to convince you that the only way to prevent these crimes is for society to change. Ask yourself this question how many people were punished for these crimes? Who was punished for beating Olivia McGowan to death in 1995 and who was punished for beating Harriet DeBerry to death in 1974? If no one was punished for murdering these females, then their assailants were free to kill again and again. So if we still have murderers walking among us does their presence in our community not suggest we need to change.

Please do not make any assumptions based on the state data because you will be wrong. The figures only represent the statistics taken from the cases we randomly selected to review in this volume of "Do This In Remembrance of Me." You may lull yourself asleep thinking that your state has zero murders because no murders were mentioned for your state. When actually a woman was just murdered down the street from you and the only reason why you do not know about her murder is that the township wants to paint a rosy picture of your community so the local newspaper is not carrying the story. The fact that the state list shows zero or eight or ten women being murdered in your state does not mean your state has a zero tolerance for violence against women. The figures only mean this is the number of murders we discussed for your state in this volume. If you want to know exactly how many women are being massacred in your state annually contact your state police. The annual figures may amaze you. And please do not be offended by the word massacred because that is exactly what is happening to the women being murdered in this country

Out of respect to 231 victims we chose not to describe all of their injuries. For the other 2,545 victims we chose not to be overly specific in our description of their injuries. The above words and phrases is sufficient to prove these women died horrible deaths. Our point is everything these women had was taken from them. These women cease to exist and they will never get a chance to finish their lives. In summary; 3 women were murdered with an ax, two were murdered with a bow and arrow, 8 were asphyxiated, 184 were beaten, 22 were beaten and stabbed, one had her back broken, 49 were bludgeoned to death, 6 were murdered with a bomb, 3 were choked and beaten with a hammer, one was crushed to death, 21 had her throat cut, 7 were decapitated, 19 disappeared, 5 were dismembered, 26 were drowned, 5 were killed by a drunk driver, 63 died in a fire deliberately set, one was frozen to death, 5 were hacked to death, 34 died of head injuries, 3 died of a heart attack, 5 were deliberately hit by a car, one was a hit and run victim, 4 were hanged, 4 were set afire, 14 died of multiple injuries, 34 were poisoned, 8 were pushed or thrown to their death, 2 was shoved into a train, 352 were stabbed to death, 263 were strangled to death, 6 was stabbed and strangled to death, 1048 were shot to death, 8 were smothered to death, 3 were stomped to death, 25 were suffocated, 12 were tortured and mutilated, and 231 women had massive injuries to the body. Would you not say that the answer to violence against women lies in the psyche of men, not women, and that murder has nothing to do with a woman's mode of dress or failure to leave home? Violence against women is an insidious social problem that has existed for some time in our country. Until the early 60's the crimes committed against women were accepted because women were property to be owned and controlled. Violence against women and slavery are kissing cousins. Under both systems the law is 'you either do what I tell you to do or I will kill you.'

The systems are perpetuated through coercion, threats, retaliation and financial control. After violence against women was exposed to the public under the heading of Domestic Violence the focus of attention was placed on the woman. Everyone asked why doesn't she leave? No one asked the questions why does he have to beat her? Why must a man control a woman? Why are women being brutalized and executed by men for the crime of disobedience? Who made disobedience a crime? Why is disobedience punishable by death? How did the idea of capital punishment come into being with respect to women? The answer to these questions lies in the psyche of the man not the woman. If anyone is to be examined and questioned regarding their behavior it is the man not the woman. What is so insulting about the reaction to Domestic Violence in this country and the world is that the victim is made to answer for the perpetrator. The woman is told if you leave all will be well. This is a lie. The truth of the matter is women do leave and they are followed, harassed, intimidated and murdered by men released by the court on probation for domestic violence. Society has not found a solution to domestic violence and to deal with this inadequacy society hides behind a cluster of restraining orders. A restraining order is nothing. A restraining order is just a piece of paper. A protection order is not a bulletproof vest. A restraining order affords the victim no protection. It is just a legal document the prosecutor uses in court to convict a man after a woman has been killed. Many perpetrators do not give a damn about the judge, the jury, or the police. His attorney has already told him to slick his hair back or take the corn rolls out of his hair and stand up straight like a man and look directly at the judge. The batterer will say and do whatever he can to win in court so he can continue controlling his victim. In the end the judge finds fault with the woman, the state finds fault with the woman and the police find fault with the woman because each group feel inadequate to deal with this problem. These are strong statements but if you continue to read you will see these statements substantiated. An example of fault finding was when someone in the state of New York came up with the bright idea of taking the children away from mothers of domestic violence. The state criminalized the woman's behavior. If a woman was brutalized in a relationship, and she had children and she chose not to leave the relationship the state of New York said it had the right to take the children away from the mother. Not leaving an abusive relationship made a woman a criminal. The woman had to be a criminal in order for the state to take away her children. Imagine the suffering caused by this system. No child wants to be away from his or her mother regardless of how the woman is perceived by society. Children love unconditionally. Dope addicts are loved by their children, and prostitutes are loved by their children. The state in essence was telling the children we can find a better parent for you other than your mother. No wonder children in foster care act out and run away. Separating children from their mothers can devastate a nation over time because it is the mother that provides continuity in a family and purpose. It was a New York law firm that took the state of New York to task for this practice. No woman in this country should ever laugh at a lawyer joke again. Of all the people in the world it is the female who surely needs an attorney. Without attorneys women would have never secured the rights they have today and it will be an attorney in the future who will prevent these rights from being taken away. These attorneys worked relentlessly until they convinced a judge that the action of the state of New York was wrong. The law firm convinced a judge that separating a mother from her children just because the mother is a victim of domestic violence is just plain wrong.

United States District Court Judge Jack B. Weinstein has ordered the City of New York to stop removing children from their mothers and placing the children in foster care homes just because the mother is a victim of domestic violence. The judge said the harm done to children being torn from their mother far outweighed the harm done to them seeing their mother being beaten. Judge Weinstein wrote "The preliminary injunction can be summed up in plain language. The government may not penalize a mother, nor otherwise unfit, who is battered by her partner, by separating her from her children, nor may children be separated from the mother, in effect visiting upon them the sins of their mother's batterer." The judge also ordered the fees paid to court-appointed lawyers representing these women to be increased to $90 an hour. The rate for court appointed attorneys working in New York is the second lowest in the country and very few attorneys are taking these cases. Because of the low pay advocacy groups say the poor are denied their constitutional right to counsel. The suit was brought by the law firm of Lansner & Kubitshek. Lynn Rosenthal the executive director of the National Network to End Domestic Violence said, "This is a very important decision for battered women all across the country." "Because we now have a legal opinion that says the government may not penalize the mother for being a victim of a crime." Women are being put in the situation of not reporting domestic violence for fear of losing their children." The city of New York was warned by Judge Weinstein in August to stop removing children simply because their mothers were being battered. He said the policy was wrong the agency's removal of children violated the parent's right to due process. Please note that we as a nation continue to abuse the woman in domestic violence or divorce cases. Somehow the woman is to blame. If she was a better wife, her husband would not have acted the way he did. If the women would leave after being mistreated, the murder would not have occurred. These thoughts negate the fact that the man stalked her or threatened to kill her children if she did not return. What woman do you know who has the resources and where with all to leave her home and began anew relocating her children and their activities and be able to fight the court for the possession of her children. If you know of such a woman, please tell us she needs to be celebrated. A man can threaten to murder his children if his wife does not return to him and the courts turn a blind eye to his threats. A man can commit incest and he is recommended for counseling. Incest is rape a child cannot consent to a sexual act therefore men who commit incest should be imprisoned not treated as a victim. When our courts began to treat both sexes equally we will then see justice for victims of violence. The problem with our society is that we cling to our myths we refuse to let them go. We have refused to grow up. We still want to believe that the story of Ozzie and Harriet and Leave It to Beaver was real. We still want to believe that a happy home is based on the woman cooking and cleaning and seeing after her husband and children; that a wife should take care of her husband after a hard day's work. All a wife has to do is cook, clean, sew, smile, run over hill and dale and all will be well in the world. We still want to cling to the notion that once a man and woman marry they live happy ever after. The prospect that man is not inherently good is frightening. The prospect that the people living next door are not like us although they look like us is also terrifying because if the people living next door are not like us who are they? Every man listed in this book as an assailant, a murderer, was someone's neighbor someone's friend; a man who could be counted on in an emergency, a man who would do his job, a man who could be trusted. Yes it is frightening that we do not know what is in the hearts of men but we cannot ignore this fear by not facing our fears that our sons, uncles, brothers, cousins may not be the men they say they are. Maybe society should realize the reason why they blame the victim for her predicament is because society realizes as most men do that women make the best target, they are easily abused, ignored and easily vanquished because women are often powerless to defend themselves.

Please remember we have not discussed those women who are in mental institutions because they were raped or the women who committed suicide after being raped. Nor have we discussed the psychological response of the men and women of the police force that have to secure the crime scene and investigate the murder. Nor have we discussed the number of men who lost their jobs after turning to drink after they lost their wives because the act of a rapist/murder. Nor have we discussed what happened to the children of these men when they could not cope with the loss of their wives. All men are not batterers some men love and depend on their wives. All we have discussed is a sanitized version of the death of 2,776 American women.

Here is one statistic we do not want to report. Of the 301 women we reported as murdered who had children we know over 600 children lost their mother to violence. Look at the numbers we reported for Volume Two Part Two. We know we did not have information on the number of children every murdered woman had.
